When Every Element Becomes Critical

Think for a moment about your favorite recipe. When you follow the instructions verbatim, you can count on having your hard work rewarded with a delicious dish. But if you forget even one ingredient, or skip over a crucial step, your dinner can quickly go from a delicacy to a disaster.

Now, take this idea, and apply it to your landscape. In order to cultivate your outdoor masterpiece, you need to consider every factor and essential "ingredient."

Taking Your Yard Where You Want It to Go

You've grown weary of having a yard that prospers for one season, and then fades.

Or, perhaps you've never known what it's like to have a landscape that truly stands out among the rest. As motivated as you may have been to enhance your yard without any help, you're now beginning to realize that you severely underestimated all of the work that goes into consistent maintenance and upkeep. You know where you want to go with your landscape, but don't quite know how to get there.

At Parker Homescape, our professionals are the driving force that takes your yard in the extraordinary direction that you've been longing for. Covering each element of your dreamscape recipe, we transform your yard and make it your new favorite creation. At the end of the day, our mission is to breathe new life into your outdoor space—without ever missing a step.

Immediate Improvements (With a Focus on the Future)

Are you tired of pouring your energy into a spring landscape that inevitably falters for the rest of the year?

At Parker, our experts cultivate for you an outdoor oasis that's rooted in longevity and can prosper through each season.

Always thinking in terms of durability and continuance, our specialists coordinate your landscape with a keen awareness of 5- to10-year growth habits. Even more, to foster year-round intrigue, our experts strategize your seasonal plant variety and planting times to ensure that your yard will always appear lavish and animated. And best of all, an effective landscape enhancement can increase your home value by 15 to 25 percent.

Conquering the Maintenance Obstacle

A crucial step in creating a true outdoor paradise is placing the client's preferences at the forefront of every operation.

At Parker, we delve deep to determine not only your personal taste, in terms of material, color, style, etc., but also to make sure that your selections are seamlessly orchestrated together and thrive year-round.

While many people initially try to keep up with their yards themselves, many discover that it's quite an undertaking to stay on top of their landscape as it changes rapidly through New Jersey's four seasons. By consulting with a professional, you save yourself both time and money. We've been in the game for many years, and know which plants, flowers and trees prosper in our area each season. With our professional touch, our team works with you during our consultation process to select plants that are durable and can withstand insects, wind and other elements.

Some other factors that we take into consideration during our consultation process include:

- · Sun/shade exposure
- Disease resistance
- Animal exposure
- Topography
- Personal taste and seasonal expectations
- · Proper coordination of color, aroma, style and planting times
- ... And much more!

These factors, when combined with our cultivated experience, enable us to find the answer that will keep your yard not only healthy, but stunning, too.

Sincere Service That Makes All the Difference

If there's one element that sets Parker Homescape apart from the rest, it's our steadfast commitment to delivering exemplary customer service.

Our team operates with the understanding that everyone has his or her own unique skills and capabilities. That's why, when we evaluate your home, our staff never treats you as anything other than an equal.

Guiding you through the entire process, we are proud to put our passion and developed expertise to good use. Upsells, arrogance and deception have never been our style. When you trust us with your landscape, our team works diligently to cultivate the kind of relationships that transform into enduring friendships with many of our clients.

Ultimately, it takes a team with an established reputation and credentials to maximize your outdoor space. And since the Parker family has been in the business for over 65 years, Parker Homescape has proven itself as a firm with the expertise and experience that's needed to consistently deliver remarkable results. Fully dedicated toward pleasing each and every customer, our team takes every exterior factor into consideration.

Over the years, have you had difficulty maintaining your plants and flowers because of ruthless sun exposure? Or, how about watching your vegetation be consumed by bothersome deer, year after year? No matter what problems you may have faced in the past, our team is here to make sure that these issues are fully resolved for a promising future.
